The Maid of Australia, yacht, was sold yesterday by Messrs. Mort and Brown, for the sum of £185, to Captain Randall.

The brig Union, from Launceston to California, put into the Bay of Islands on the 9th inst., with a cargo of sundries. Subjoined is a letter from Captain Granger to D. Nathan, Esq., Auckland. "Day of Islands, May 10, 1860. Dear Sir,—I beg leave to inform you that I arrived here yesterday, with a cargo of sundries, (bound for California), which took place on the 28th ult., at eight o'clock, P.M. It broke in the centre; I saved the upper part, and a rudder by saving the main boom, and two, which had been broken previous to this accident, and secured it to the stern with my topmast shrouds and fore tackles. I constructed the rudder on the following plan: I bolted the two pieces of main-boom to the head of the rudder, and the after part of the rudder secured my two pieces of anchor-stock, with which I made a very good shift, being about 500 miles from the land. It appears that I cannot get the ironwork for a new rudder done here; I have therefore sent the moulds to you, and would wish you to get it made with all speed. I left Launceston on the 21st April, and was in great hopes of making a quick passage, but this accident has put me to some delay. I remain, &c., A. GRANGER, Master of brig Union, of Launceston."

It is with great regret that we have to announce the unfortunate event which has befallen the brig Brothers, Captain Soule, which has been wrecked on the coast of California. It will be recollected that this vessel left this port about two months ago, and proceeded to Launceston to complete loading for California. She left that port, and when about half-way to California was discovered to be on fire. After some unavailing attempts to extinguish the fire, she put back for this port, and after burning for fourteen days they succeeded in subduing the destructive element and finally extinguishing it altogether. We learn that her cargo, and almost everything inside the vessel, has been destroyed, and that the preservation of the ship was almost miraculous, as the fire had reached within a few inches of some powder on board, the explosion of which would doubtless have blown her to pieces. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been accidental. —Hawthorn Times.

11. Provide always that, before Execution shall be sued out, after Judgment against the Defendant by default, where he has in fact not appeared, an Affidavit shall be made and filed, to the effect that the Defendant, in the Form hereto annexed marked F.

12. The Sheriff shall appoint a Bailiff, at each of the undermentioned places, for the service of summonses; that is to say—Yass, Berriam, Wellington, Port Macquarie, Braidwood, Grafton, and Tamworth.—And no more Costs or Mileage shall be allowed, except on order of a Judge, for the service of a Summons on any Defendant, than would have been payable, in case the nearest of such Bailiffs had served the same.

13. Every Summons shall in any case be issued, where it is intended to proceed by, or to apply for, a Writ of Capias;—not, except by order of a Judge, shall any costs be allowed for a Summons, where a Capias has been issued, without Affidavit by the Attorney, that, when the former Writ was sued out, no application for the latter was contemplated by him.

14. These several Rules shall apply equally to Actions against Attorneys and Prisoners in custody; but not to Actions of Ejectment.

15. Every Commissioner authorized by these Rules to issue Writs of Summons, is hereby (under and by virtue of the before recited Act) empowered also to issue Subpoenas in any case, Civil or Criminal; and to examine and take for every such Subpoena, in an Action of a fee of two shillings and sixpence, and in a Criminal case one shilling.—Provided that, where a Subpoena is applied for on behalf of the Crown, or of a Magistrate

SALE OF SMALL FARMS.—On the 19th instant, there was a sale of small farms held in the Court House, when there was a large attendance.
It was truly a sight to see the spirit of competition that was manifested, and the consequent high prices obtained for some of the lots. It is the greatest piece of folly for the Government to put up any of these small farms at such a price; had they been put up at £1, they would in all probability have been all disposed of. The sum realized was about £870.

TAX ON NEWSPAPERS.—The public have borne with the charge of the transmission of newspapers through the post with a degree of patience, not easily to be accounted for: every one is, however, grumbling. We have been expecting an outbreak every day since the odious penny was put in force to the time we have been led to consider the impolicy of the government taxing the only means the great bulk of the people possess of general information, not only in respect to what is so essential to be known as the state of the government, but in matters in which the government are directly interested; few, very few, take in the Government Gazette, how then can those interested in the purchase of it ever come to the knowledge of the Government's policy, and, moreover, according to one of the declarations made previous to the sale, i.e., that none are to consider themselves ignorant of the conditions of sale, or of anything connected with the several lots, the Government are to have all knowledge of everything connected therewith?
These thoughts passed through our mind when attending the sale of small farms on the 19th, when metropolitan and local journals and their representatives to report on the Government Land Sale, and all the lots offered.

IMPROVEMENT AT THE SOUTHERN END OF ABERNETHY-STREET.—It will be remembered that it was proposed some time ago that a drain and caneaway should be constructed along the space and that Mr. Nicholson was requested to wait on his Excellency the Governor to solicit aid to construct the same; we are happy to say that the Government have come to Dr.
Nicholson's application, and have granted the aid, understanding being given to us as to the certifying of this object held on the 19th instant, at Mr. Simon's, Chequer Inn, when it was resolved to raise an equivalent to the above sum by a subscription.

BATHURST.

THE WEATHER.—Since our last, the weather has been seasonable - frequent slight showers of rain; since when the plough has been in active requisition in old land, but not sufficient rain for working unbroken ground. For the last few days a strong windward has set in, and heavy fall of snow on the mountains surrounding the plains in a north-easterly direction.

PRODUCE.—Little variation in prices since our last report. Hay still from £1 to £1 10s. per ton. Some of the settlers in the neighbourhood of O'Connell Plains have been the first to present complaints regarding the hay that has undergone this process to Sydney for sale, paying for transit £3 per ton. Wheat, from 2s. to 2s. 3d. per bushel, some very superior samples have realized 6s. 6d. Flour at 47s. per ton, and some of our bakers. Coupon, determined that the public should receive the benefit of the low price of wheat, has reduced the price of the two pound loaf from 3d. to 2d.
Corn, 2s. 6d. to 2s. 8d. per bushel. Dairy produce, no variation.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.—The sum of £600 having been placed on the estimate for repairing the roads and bridges between Bathurst, and Solitary Creek, and notices have been issued inviting tenders to be presented at the new Court House, on Wednesday, the 6th of Tuesday, the 26th instant. This portion of the road between Sydney and Bathurst has been for years past in the most wretched state, and the sum named, judiciously applied, may go far to mend our ways.

POLICE MAGISTRATES.—The recent debates in the Legislative Council relative to the discontinuance of paid police magistrates for the country districts, has aroused the respectable inhabitants of this district to a sense of expressing their feeling on the subject. A meeting of the several individuals assembled and agreed on a Petition to the Legislative Council, of which we subjoin a copy: it has already been signed by upwards of 250 of the most influential residents, has met with a cordial reception, and eulogiums were passed on the present incumbent, Colonel Morisset, who has for many years filled the situation, and who by his upright and impartial conduct has gained golden testimonials from all who have come in contact with him: irrespective of this in a wide and extended district like Bathurst, the urgent necessity for a paid Police Magistrate must be evident to every one of a thinking mind. The Magistrate we have one, it is often difficult in cases where a second Magistrate is required, to procure the attendance of one.

To the Honorable the Legislative Council of New South Wales, we, the undersigned Magistrates, Gerrymen, Land and Stockholders, Merchants and Inhabitants generally, of the district of Bathurst.

Humbly Sheweth—

That your Petitioners learn with regret, the probability of an attempt to be made by the Legislative Council for the ensuing year, to discontinue the services of all the Police Magistrates of the Country.

That whilst your Petitioners appreciate and respect the motives of those members of your Honorable Council who may be of opinion that the present Magistrate is superfluous, and that the sums disbursed for their salaries, are a heavy burden on the public treasury, and that the removal of the Magistrate by the irregular administration of justice, which may be a result of the removal of the Magistrate

Magistrate would be caused by the fact of the Magistrate, the distance of the place, and the expense in the country, many at considerable distances, and also more or less, so connected with professions or business, that it is often difficult to require their immediate personal superintendence.

Your Petitioners would furthermore allude to the fact of the Honorable Council, in the year 1854, being an Assize Town. That the district magistrates were called upon to appear in person, and conduct a petty session, and in consequence of the wanting a proportionate number of police business, and therefore the daily attendance of a magistrate for the retention of public order and the peace.

RUCTION OF BORNEAN PIR

test. The next morning I knocked out the British ensign from the flagpole of the pirate ship, and knew with who he had to do now. But he hoisted up another British ensign. Now, he couldn't have held one in those seas, and the one he hoisted up could only have been gained by treachery. He was a traitor. His crew belonged (cheers). Why, there had been many Manila vessels that had never been heard of, and the Java seas were notorious for that reason. These gentlemen—these gentlemen have told us that Rajah Brooke took possession of Borneo in his yacht, but they don't seem to know that Borneo is an island eight times larger than England, and nearly half as large as Australia. It would take a fleet of sailing ships to conquer it. There are no white men or merchants of Singapore. Now, I don't like to slander a man behind his back, and what did they do about Rajah Brooke? I have had dealings with the Singapore merchants, and I can tell you that they are all white men, very religious, and a better class of men do exist than the British merchants of Singapore. Now what have they done? they are with a stone's throw, they have had dealings with the Dutch Government. They say that Governor Brooke declared that Governor Brooke is justified in what he has done. If you ask you ought to take these men alive. Is it can take a man alive, we must 300 prisoners. But remember, you may meet 300 prisoners every day. They are armed with poisoned spears. "I wish," said Captain Smith with great emphasis and turning round to the rev. gentlemen behind him (hears), "you would go on the coast of Borneo." (great cheering.) "You body of the room." "Why I have been obliged to land with a brace of pistols and a sword at my side to procure water. I have had to shoot two natives dead. I have seen a wild beast. Humiliate them if you can, but depend upon it you must either put them down, or they will cut off every British ship sarient that goes in those seas. (Increased confusion, and some of the members of the meeting. Give him fair play!)"

A gentleman upon the platform, indignantly. "He shall have no unfair play here!" Interfered with this matter, if I have all laughter, and cheers from an increasing party in the room who appeared to be gained over by the undrunked captain; but I could not get away from the speaker. He said that his country—the conclusion of the sentence was talked in cheers. One gentleman has drawn about Nelson, and said he would not have done such a thing; but, when you get into a boat, you have got to make your own can get hold of, and boil you next day, why are you to do?" (A laugh, and hear, hears.) "Our sailors have done wrong in destroying such men, what did Nelson deserve at Copenhagen? They say they have done wrong, and they legitimately could to suppress piracy, and they ought to have credit given them for having done their duty (hears). There is no evidence that Nelson deserved any unjust act of cruelty, and I say they should be followed, and then censured (cheers). I agree with you that there ought to be no such thing as head money (hear, and cheers). A naval officer might say that he would not follow me, enough. If you can civilize these pirates do so; but I thought, as I happened to be present, I would tell you that a more gallant race of men than our officers and sailors in these seas I have never known. I am glad to see Mr. (Captain Smith resumed his seat, apparently to the relief of the promoters of the meeting.)

Mr. G. Thompson said amid vociferous cheering. Captain Smith for the capture of Rajah Brooke refuted the assertions of Mr. Aaron Smith, for he had entered the river Sarawak, not on the quarter-deck of a vessel of 600 tons, like their captives, but in a small boat, and he was in a small yacht; he had done nothing to follow him interior, and he had received every hospitality from the natives (cheers). He feared their friend Mr. Smith must have been wanting in courage, and he would not follow him. He said he had met with in the Indian seas had filled his brain with phantasms ever since (a laugh). He wished to know what part of the coast Captain Smith spoke of.

Mr. G. Thompson said that south-west coast of Borneo. Sarawak has been under the Dutch Government for half a century.

Mr. G. Thompson denied that it was.

Captain Smith.—It has paid tribute to Holland.

Mr. G. Thompson.—If so, how is to be hoped that the Dutch Government allowed Rajah Brooke to get hold of it. (Cheers.)

Mr. G. Thompson said that Captain Smith to prove this. I cannot prove a negative.

Captain Smith said that imputations had been thrown out against him. (Hear.) Now, he did not throw out improper imputations against any one; but since Mr. Thompson had said that he had received a purse of 100 guineas from the merchants, a piece of plate of 500 guineas from the country captains, and 100 guineas from the pirates, who would not follow him for his conduct in these waters. (Hear, and cheer.) To charge him with want of courage in this way was, therefore, very bad conduct as they saw the least of it. (Hear.)

Mr. G. Thompson said, they had graver matters to deal with than bandying either soft words or hard words with Captain Smith (cheers). Naked and alone Mr. Rajah Brooke had proved the temper of these natives. If a man was ever so much of a coward, and if such an obligation could ever fall upon him—he (Mr. Thompson) liked to see him sorry for it, and did not like to see him gloating over the recollection (great cheering). When Captain Smith said that Dyak and Arab, and his account, he might ask himself, "What means that portion of the dialogue, 'Thou shalt not kill'?" (Cheer.) Now, if the gentleman would not speak of it, he would not but didn't let him harass a poor fellow. (Much laughter and cheering.) The hon. member proceeded to quote largely from the Journal of the late Midshipman Murray in condemnation of the actions of the Dutch Government. If he got a committee to inquire into the massacre of Borneo, and he (Mr. G. Thompson) were a member, he would have this gentleman before its (cheers and laughter). He should like to turn him out of his seat, and he would not move a little more about him. (Captain Smith—"The hon. member be ashamed of his name.") The hon. member concluded by contending that no man could be so much of a coward as to say that the motto of the B.M. means of themselves, should be "Strike! but bear" (cheers).

The resolution was then put from the chair, and passed unanimously.

Mr. J. H. Barry moved the next resolution, concerning the giving head money to the Dutch in the partition of it. It was seconded by Mr. S. F. Woolmer, and carried without opposition.

The question came to parliament, embodying the substance of the resolutions, was then proposed by Mr. J. Barrett, seconded by Mr. J. Bell, and carried.

After a vote of thanks to the chair, the meeting broke up at about eleven o'clock.

MARRIED.
